SUMMARY

Highly motivated entry-level cybersecurity enthusiast with a solid understanding of cybersecurity fundamentals and a passion for ethical hacking. Gained practical experience through hands-on labs and penetration testing simulations, focusing on identifying vulnerabilities and understanding system security architectures. Eager to apply deep technical skills, an analytical mind, and a proactive mindset to a junior security role.

EXPERIENCE

Intern

November 2025 – January 2026

Embrizon Technologies, Kalyani

- Contributed to development of software solutions for client projects, enhancing project delivery timelines.
- Collaborated with cross-functional team members in product testing and quality assurance workflows to ensure high-quality outcomes.
- Conducted targeted research tasks to support project planning and architectural implementation phases.
- Pursued professional development opportunities to stay informed on emerging industry trends and technologies.

PROJECTS

Web Application Penetration Testing

Simulated Lifecycle Assessment

- Conducted end-to-end penetration testing on a lab-hosted web application to accurately simulate real-world cyber attacks.
- Executed comprehensive reconnaissance, attack surface mapping, and vulnerability scanning operations utilizing Nmap and Burp Suite.
- Performed manual exploitation of identified system and network vulnerabilities using specialized security testing tools like sqlmap in a native Kali Linux environment.
- Evaluated overall security risk severity vectors and documented structured, step-by-step methodologies to deliver a professional penetration testing report.
